

I would like to voice my strong support for NET NEUTRALITY. The recent decision by FCC Chairman Pai is a step in the wrong direction. It will allow for far less competition and innovation, as well as pave the way for ISPs to treat certain types of data differently than others. I strongly urge the FCC to keep the internet as a title II utility under the Communications Act of 1934. Listen to the people. Not the corporations and lobbyist. This is a wholly unpopular move. Thanks for your consideration.

Lane Miller